Olympic Competition Format

The badminton competition at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games comprises singles and doubles events for men and women, and a mixed doubles event.

A singles player may also enter in the doubles and mixed doubles events. There are between 38 and 50 players in singles competitions and 16 pairs in the doubles and mixed doubles competitions. If a player qualifies for two events, then the extra place will be allocated to the next eligible singles player of the same gender.

A maximum of 172 players will compete in the Olympic Games tournament with NOCs permitted a maximum of two entries in singles and two pairs in doubles. Entries in each event will include the highest-ranked player or pair from each of the following: Badminton Confederation Africa, Badminton Asia Confederation, Badminton Europe Confederation, Badminton Oceania and Pan American Badminton Confederation. For the doubles event this is subject to being in the top 50 of the world ranking. As the host nation, Japan is entitled to have at least two players entered.

At the Olympic Games, the two players in a doubles partnership must represent the same NOC.

The badminton competitions will be played in two stages; the group play stage and the knockout stage.

Draw

Group allocation for the group play stage will be determined by a draw.

Singles:

The number of seeds will correspond to the number of groups. The seeded players will be placed at the top of each group. Players from the same NOC cannot be drawn into the same group.

The remaining players will be drawn into the groups, one by one, until all players are placed in a group. The order of play is defined by the World Badminton Federation (BWF) rules.

Doubles:

The seeded players will be placed at the top of each group. Players from the same NOC cannot be drawn into the same group. The remaining players will be distributed into the groups by a draw.

Group play stage

The players/pairs will play in groups (for singles 12 to 16 groups - depending of the number of entries - of three or four players each and for doubles four groups of four pairs each), in which all players/pairs in the group play each other. A final ranking order for each group will be calculated. Ranking will be established by the number of matches won.

If two players/pairs have won the same number of matches, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players/pairs have won the same number of matches, ranking will be established by the difference between total games won and total games lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If two players/pairs remain tied, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players/pairs have won the same number of matches and are equal in the difference between total games won and total games lost, ranking will be established by the difference between total points won and total points lost, with greater difference ranked higher.

If two players/pairs remain tied, the winner of the match between them will be ranked higher.

If three or more players/pairs are still equal, then ranking will be established by drawing lots.

Knockout draw (doubles)

A random draw to determine places in the knockout stage (quarterfinals) will be made for the doubles events.

Knockout stage

For the singles competition, the top ranked player from each group of the group play stage will qualify to the round of 16.

For the doubles competition, the two top ranked pairs from each group of the group play stage will qualify to the quarterfinals.

This stage consists of a head-to-head match from which the winner advances to the next round. The only time a losing player or pair will contest another match is when the losing semifinalists meet in the bronze medal match.

Differences between the BWF World Championships and the Olympic Games

At the BWF World Championships, player quotas by NOCs are not as restrictive as at the Olympic Games, and as a consequence the draw size is much bigger. Also, the match for third place is not played, and the two losers of the semifinal matches are awarded bronze medals.

The BWF World Championships are run in a knockout format and have no group play stage.

Changes since the Rio 2016 Olympic Games

None

Sport Rules and Procedures

Toss

Before play, a toss will be conducted and the side winning the toss will choose to serve or receive first or start play at one end of the court or the other.

Scoring format

A match will consist of the best of three games. A game will be won by the player/pair which first scores 21 points provided there is a two-point lead. One point is awarded to the winner of each rally, which is an unbroken sequence of strokes from the service until a player fails to make a valid return. The winner of the point becomes the next server. If the score becomes 20 all, the side which first gains a two-point lead will win the game. If the score becomes 29 all, the side scoring the 30th point will win the game. The side winning a game will serve first in the next game.

Substitutions

No changes or substitutions of any kind can be made to the entries after the completion of the Olympic Games draws.

Penalties/disqualification rules

A coloured penalty card system (yellow, red and black) is used to act as a visual aid when an umpire issues a warning for misconduct or other misdemeanours.

Disqualifications in badminton are very rare, with the most common cause being a player or pair reporting late for a match. Players can also be disqualified for serious or persistent misconduct, but this is equally rare.

During the match an umpire can issue a warning (and a yellow card) if a player fails to respect the laws of badminton or the players' code of conduct.

Faults

If the player has already been warned for misconduct, or when the offence is flagrant, the umpire can call a fault and issue a red card.

If the player is guilty of persistent or flagrant acts of misconduct, the umpire will fault the offending side, and report the offending side immediately to the referee. If the referee decides that a disqualification is necessary, he hands a black card to the umpire to issue to the offending side, signalling their disqualification from the match.

Protests

In badminton the result is final once the player leaves the court. Any decision taken by the referee is final.
